

Stonehouse Publishing

SUBMISSIONS are now open. We look forward to reading your manuscripts. Please look at our submission guidelines <http://www.stonehousepublishing.ca/what-we-publish> and familiarize yourself with our books before you submit to ensure your work is a good fit with what we publish <https://www.stonehousepublishing.ca/catalogue>

To submit your work to Stonehouse Publishing, please mail us a cover letter with your contact information and 30 printed pages of your work, unbound. We appreciate if you use Times New Roman, 12 point, and double-space your submission. If you would like your work returned via mail, please include a SASE, with sufficient postage. Otherwise, we will email you our reply. If you would prefer a reply via mail, please send us a SASE reply mailer. Please address submissions to either Netta Johnson or Lisa Murphy Lamb* (only the cat reads 'to whom it may concern' or 'dear editor'. However, if you really want to get her attention, please send to 'Unsworth the cat'. We may read those ones too.)

Please note, we do not accept e-submissions and will not read or reply to them.

We will reply to all submissions, so please let us know if you have not received a reply after 6 weeks or so. Life is too short to require exclusive submissions, so please shop around while we take our sweet time.
